Take Pride In Being a Hero To These Deserving People. The Native Indians Appreciate Your Help and Support.

I had been on the river for three long, 12 hour days. I was sitting on a 55 gallon steel drum of motor fuel powering up the Rio Pisces in the heart of the Amazon Basin. The sun was dropping into the thick green canopy, showering the sky with crimson reds, flamingo pinks and azure blues.

After being serenaded to sleep by the hypnotic night sounds of the jungle, I woke up the next morning in a Shipibo village where we consult with the curanderos and collect plants. By late afternoon, our business was complete.

What happened next will make you proud to be a part of this important mission.

Before I could get back to the boat for the next eight hour trip up river, as I was bidding farewell to some of the elders, they led me to a council where other elders and the chief had assembled. They gave eloquent speeches for the next hour on how we had saved their village, which was in a state of social and economic disintegration. They had even considered selling their pristine Rainforest off for the lumber.

But now that we are providing them funds and other resources for sustainable and ecological harvesting of Rainforest plants, they have ongoing cash crops. They went on to say how their sense of dignity had returned along with the finances to make new choices about their own future. It was like a dream come true. Now it was clear that the circle of healing and prosperity was firmly in place.

To these brave men and women of the forest who have given so much and asked for so little, those of you who choose to participate in this mission are very special! You really are one of their heroes! Each of you are making a huge difference in the lives of these people in the Rainforest. With each new Associate you introduce to our products and each bottle of our life enhancing material you move in commerce, you not only facilitate health and create profits, you make a difference right down to the village level.

Just think of the impact you’ll make this year both here and in the Rainforest as together, we take this healing message to millions of new people.
